Maui Nō Ka 'Oi

Aloha Kakou

A new era is upon us here in Maui County! All of us ocean-lovers are thrilled now that the new mineral-only sunscreen ordinance has gone into effect this month on October 1. What does this mean for beach and waterfall-goers? Now only zinc oxide and titanium dioxide-based sunscreens are legal for use. This law guards human health and also the health of coral, fish and all marine life we know and love by reducing the amount of harmful chemicals that make their way into the ocean ecosystem from beaches and streams where people swim. So, it's time to read your sunscreen ingredient labels and stop using products containing oxybenzone, octinoxate, avobenzone, homosalate and octocrylene. And remember, just because it says "reef friendly" doesn't mean it is, so please read ingredient lists closely. The County of Maui is working with retailers to have them remove these products from their shelves. Let's celebrate this new era of ocean health here in Maui County! For more details please visit: <https://www.mauicounty.gov/2483/Mineral-Only-Sunscreen-Maui-County>.

New Offerings

Pacific Whale Foundation Expands Adoption Program

Pacific Whale Foundation (PWF) welcomes three new additions to its Adoption program, a funding source for PWF's ongoing efforts to protect the ocean and its inhabitants. Falsie, the false killer whale spotted with her calf, Maka Koa, the bottlenose dolphin, a survivor of possible fisheries interaction; and Larned, the humpback whale, a frequent participant in male competition pods. The $80 adoption donation includes information on your adopted animal, certificate of adoption, phone wallpaper, sticker, reusable tote bag, sighting reports and other exclusive benefits. For more information, visit www.pacificwhale.org/adopt.

Aloha Hat Co. Features Made-in-Hawai'i Hats

Kids Yoga and More at Four Seasons Resorts Lanai

Four Seasons Resort Lanai debuts new wellness programming for kids! Children ages 5 through 12 can learn how to center themselves with breathing and visualization techniques, as well as improve coordination, strengthen their bodies and increase flexibility. Restorative Sound Bath immerses guests into a full body listening experience that intentionally uses sound to invite gentle yet powerful therapeutic and restorative nurturing. Yoga Sculpt combines power yoga and strength training while silk hammocks welcome all levels in an AntiGravity® Yoga session. For more information, visit www.fourseasons.com/lanai/spa.

Signature Scents at Sensei Lanai, A Four Seasons Resort

Sensei Lanai, the adults-only wellness retreat offers bespoke essential oil blends for treatments. Lāna'i blends essences of two island healing plants, green tī plant and lemon verbena. The native la'i, or tī plant, was believed to be a great purifier and leaves were gathered early in the morning when their spiritual power, or mana, was at its peak. Other scents, Will, Wake, Root and Rise, highlight the island's various landscapes - from arid plains and Cook Island pine forests to wild coastlines where dolphins frolic. For more information, visit www.fourseasons.com/sensei.

Events or Activities

PacWhale Enhances Popular Snorkel Ecotour

Explore the largely uninhabited coast of Lānaʻi on PacWhale Eco-Adventures' two-stop snorkel adventure. The expanded six-hour Lānaʻi / West Side Snorkel & Dolphin Watch doubles your fun with visits to two prime snorkel sites rich in abundant sea life, green sea turtles and colorful reef fish. You might also spot some wild dolphins along the way! This enhanced ecotour leaves daily Lāhainā Harbor at 7:00 a.m. Wholly owned by ocean conservation nonprofit Pacific Whale Foundation (PWF) as a social enterprise, PacWhale Eco-Adventures helps fund vital PWF Research, Education and Conservation programs.
